Aberystwyth Ceredigion SY23 4RF
No onward chain £315,000

For Sale by Private Treaty

Enjoying an elevated location with far-reaching, uninterrupted views over open countryside near Devils Bridge, a detached 2 bedroomed traditional cottage known as

PANTGLAS
DEVILS BRIDGE
CEREDIGION
SY23 4RF

Pantglas is peacefully situated near Devils Bridge, in the foothills of the Cambrian Mountains, approximately 12 miles from the coastal town of Aberystwyth, which offers a range of supermarkets, independent shops and cafes. The property is well suited to home working, with BT/Openreach Full Fibre available, and enjoys a tranquil setting with far-reaching views, abundant birdlife and very low light pollution.

The village, in addition to the dramatic waterfalls which descend into the valley, is the terminus for the Vale of Rheidol steam railway and has the benefit of a primary school and the Hafod Hotel with its bar and restaurant. There is a scenic drive from the village to the former mining village of Cwmystwyth over Elan Valley to Rhaeadr. The Nant Y Moch reservoir, Red Kite feeding centre at Nant Yr Arian and the Strata Florida Abbey are within a short distance.

Pantglas is approached over a farm track through land which is in different ownership. The house is well worthy of inspection with many original features.

DIRECTIONS

(What3words: acclaimed.warp.arching)
